

THE CHIEF

1963

A photograph of a sunset or sunrise over a dark landscape. The sky is filled with soft, wispy clouds, transitioning from a deep orange near the horizon to a darker, almost black, at the top. The horizon line is low, showing the silhouettes of trees and a fence. The overall mood is serene and contemplative.

Joseph Case High School
Swansea, Massachusetts

In Memoriam

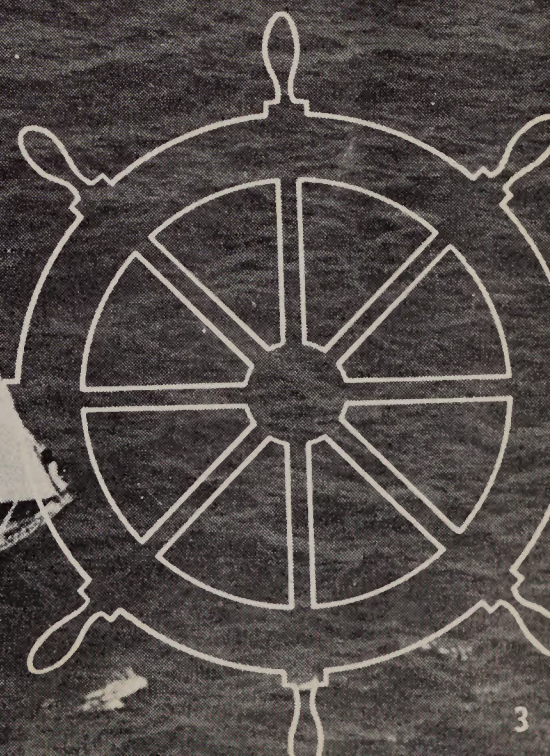

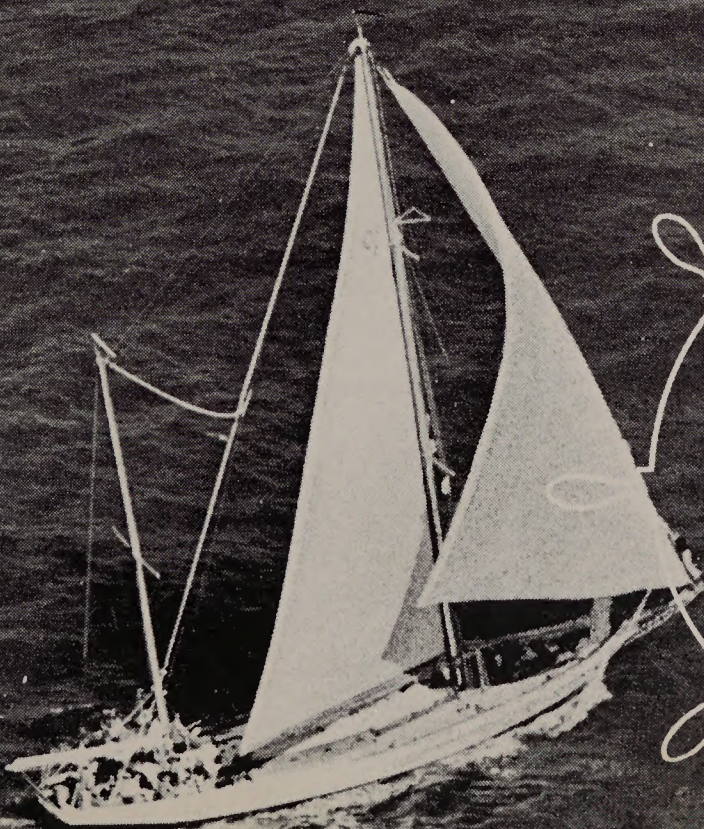

Within the past year, Case High has suffered a great loss in the departing of one of its most devoted teachers, Mr. Gerard Dalton. After teaching chemistry at Case for twenty years, Mr. Dalton, a man of great knowledge, a teacher greatly respected by his students, and a person always offering assistance in any manner he could to anyone who needed it, passed away. Though he will walk these halls no more, his memory will forever inhabit them. We, the Class of 1963, wish to express our deepest sympathy at the passing of so dedicated a man.

Foreword

With our school days coming to their close, we pause to look back upon the friends and happiness we have had. Our last year has been one filled with many experiences which we shall never forget. The joys, the sorrows, the fun, and the hard work—these are all parts of our memories. In the 1963 Chief we have tried to preserve for you through pictures these wonderful memories of Joseph Case High School.

Dedication

We, the senior class of 1963, dedicate this yearbook to Mr. Robert E. Bannister whose inspiration, patience, and wisdom have helped us in our journey through Case High School. He has steadily ploughed the soil of knowledge, sowed the seeds of kindness, and reaped the understanding of youth.

To you, Mr. Bannister, we say, "Thank You!"

To the Class of 1963:

It is indeed a pleasure to write my first message in "The Chief." As seniors leaving school full of enthusiasm, brings to mind the second stanza of Masefield's "Sea Fever"

"I must go down to the seas again,
for the class of the running tide
Is a wild call and a clear call that may not be denied;

And all I ask is a windy day with the white clouds flying,
And the flung spray and the blown spume,
and the sea gulls crying."

Your future pathway will be likened to an ocean voyage. It is my earnest hope that yours will be spent in the bright sunlight of life, but fear not. as troubled seas move in from time to time to haunt and worry you. The excellent training of your teachers, parents, and clergy will enable you to avoid the reefs and enable you to navigate the angry seas to the calmer waters of success and happiness.

Bon Voyage!

HELEN A. REAGAN, PRINCIPAL

To the Class of 1963:

In keeping with the nautical theme of your yearbook, I call you to attention as would a boatswain on a ship.

Now hear there! Now hear there!

The sea has been the inspiration for many works of art including songs, poems, paintings, operas, and books. Man's battles with the sea have been responsible for some of the greatest literary works of all time. One theme in these works is dominant throughout; namely, man's reliance upon his Eternal Father for assistance. It is a very natural thing to look for help from the Almighty when aboard a ship beleagured by eighty foot waves and a howling wind.

Now that you are putting out to the sea of life, you may find storms which will try your souls. These trials and tribulations will be best met if you realize you are not alone in life. The Naval Academy tradition of closing every church service with the Navy Hymn bears testimony to this fact. As the congregation kneels, the choir sings:

Eternal Father strong to save,
Whose arm hath bound the restless wave
Who bids the mighty ocean deep
Its own appointed limits keep,
O, hear us when we call to thee
For those in peril on the sea.

So it is too, in your life. May your seas be smooth with a homeward breeze. And, in keeping with this theme, I offer you my congratulations with the nautical expression, "All Hands! Well done!"

HELEN A. REAGAN, PRINCIPAL

Graduates of 1963:

You have come to a set of goal posts; the gate out-leading from your high school days; the gate in-leading to the world in which you must now take your place as an adult citizen.

On the inner side of the gate where your first goal posts stand, you reach the end of the path through your childhood and youth - a path narrow and straight and well defined - a path of which your parents and teachers are the keepers. On the outer side, this gate marks the beginning of the path leading through the labyrinth of life - a path at times narrow and twisting, at times broad and bright. This path will lead now to high places, now to low, and sometimes nowhere at all. It will be frequented by true guides and faithful friends and again it may be beset by false guides and faithless foes. Through this path of life when your footsteps hesitate or the mist of uncertainty distresses you, accept and grasp the guiding hand of your God and you will attain your final goal posts in peace and soul-content.

As these final sentinels loom on the far-outstretching path of life, may the truths of your training and your education come to full fruition and finest harvest for you, your community and your country.

God Bless you all.

Sports

A spirited Case eleven saw a successful 1962 campaign with 6 wins against only 3 losses. Placing five players on the All Tri-County squad and fielding one of the best defensive units in the area, the Cardinals had much to be proud of although the Championship was just out of their grasp. Hats off to Coach McCarthy, the team, and their show of good sportsmanship throughout the season!

Varsity Basketball

Pitting speed, aggressiveness, and accurate shooting against their opponents, the Case High hoopsters consistently overwhelmed their rivals, usually to the tune of twenty or more points, and captured the Narry League Crown with a 19-1 record. At games, Case fans could always be sure of seeing excellent basketball skill, team play, and good sportsmanship, as well as the brilliant strategies of Coach O'Hare. Unfortunately, the over-anxious Case squad was eliminated by experienced Plymouth in the Tech Tourney, but the Case team of 1963 will long be remembered for their "heads-up" brand of basketball.

Jayvee Team

Not to be outdone by the Varsity, the Jayvee's compiled an 18-2 record for the season and continuing in the winning ways of the Varsity five, they captured the Narry League championship. Coach Nolan's JV quintet put on a great show of basketball skill throughout the season, and the future of CHS basketball looks bright with a champion JV team graduating to Varsity for the '64 campaign.

The D.A.R. Award

Each year the D.A.R. award is presented to the outstanding girl in the senior class. Both the faculty and the students this year have chosen Gail Catabia for her loyalty, devotion, and service to her class, school, and community.

We are grateful to Gail for the sincere help which the faculty and students received through her school endeavors and extracurricular activities.

The class of 1963 extends to you, Gail, wishes for much happiness and success in the years that lie ahead.

The Harvard Book Award

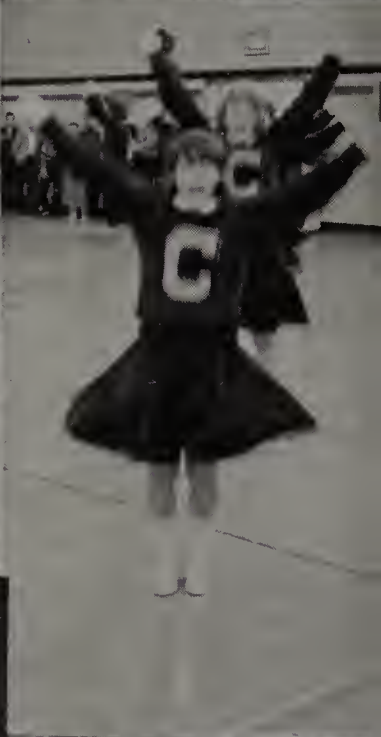

This year the Harvard Book was awarded to Henri Montandon. Each June the Harvard Club of Fall River presents this award to a boy in the Junior Class outstanding for his capabilities of leadership and character. Henri is intelligent, gentlemanly, cooperative, and ambitious, justly deserving this honor.

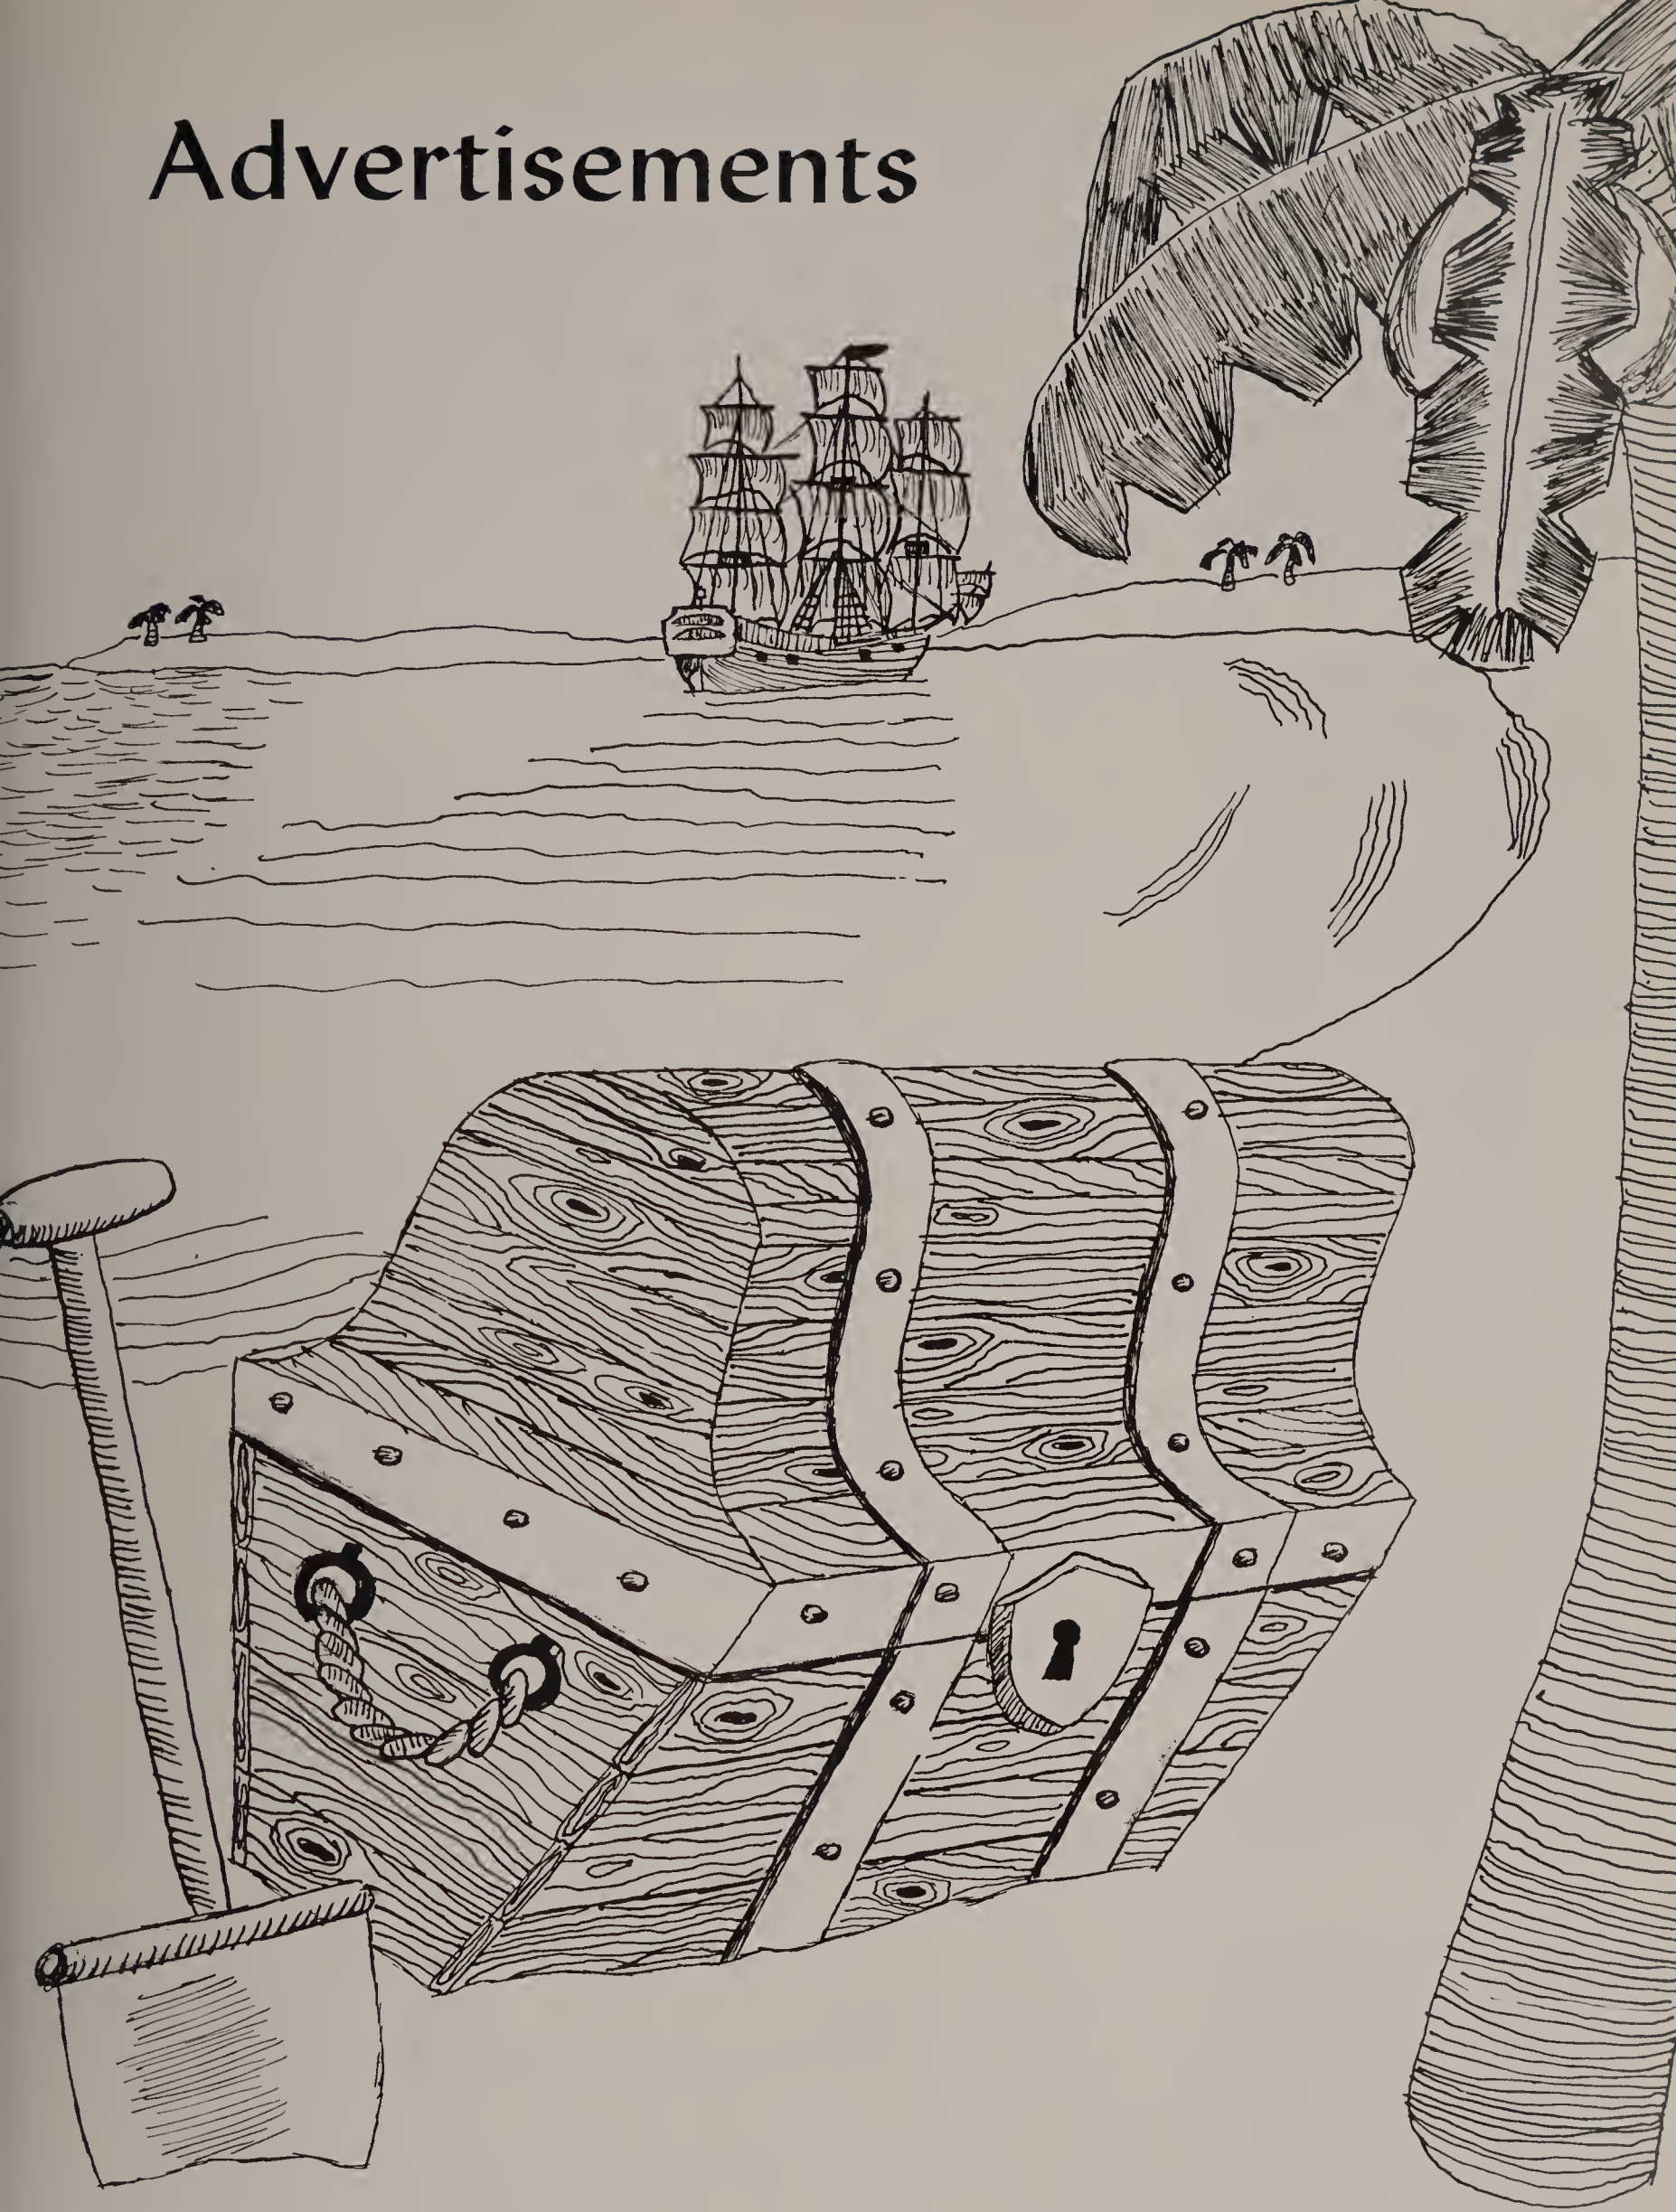

We, the students of Joseph Case High School, hope Henri will find this award a symbol of success, and we wish him happiness and good luck in the future.
